2022 Economic Outlook

There's been a lot of talk about the economy lately. From inflation to employment, wages, rising interest rates, and more, 2022 is starting out as a year where the economy is set to take center stage.

Recently, TRICOM's President / CEO Julie Ann Bittner sat down with Jason Turner, Chief Investment Strategist of Great Lakes Advisors to talk about the economic outlook as it stands today. They discussed what it tells us about the current environment and what the year may bring in terms of changes and trends. Jason also addressed questions such as:

What is "the Great Resignation" of 2021 and how is it impacting employment supply and demand?

Will wages increase to meet the shortfall between job openings and hiring as well as workers demands due to the rising cost of living?

What is the media is not talking about?

The talent shortage we are all facing is not short-term or cyclical, and it will not be solved by traditional recruiting means. Leading labor market analytics firm EMSI has labeled it as the "sansdemic," meaning "without people." We are at the beginning of a global labor crisis that many economists and labor experts believe will last decades. So what can we do to adapt and ensure we are appropriately and consistently staffed?

Join TRICOM and Tallann Resources for our first quarter Industry Insider webinar session, as nationally recognized recruiting expert and speaker Tom Erb discusses the current and future state of the labor market, what that means for businesses and the economy, and how you can gain a significant competitive advantage by fundamentally changing the way you approach the recruiting function.
